THE continued and increasing favour with which this Work has for more than a quarter of a century been annually received by the Public, the important assistance constantly accorded to it by the Nobility, and the gracious communications with which it has been honoured by its August Patrons, while demanding the most grateful acknowledgments of the Editors, have incited them to fresh exertions, not only in maintaining their acknowledged reputation for superior authenticity and accuracy, but in rendering the present Edition even more acceptable than its predecessors. The Armorial Bearings have been carefully revised and renewed wherever necessary; and the full account of the FAMILIES OF EXISTING BARONETS will, it is believed, constitute this, together with its companion volume, "LODGE'S GENEALOGY OF THE BRITISH PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE" (lately reprinted), a complete repertory of all useful knowledge on the subject of the titled classes of the realm.

LONDON, Dec. 1864.

TO THE FIRST EDITION.

---

It may be proper to remark, that the present work, founded on the personal communications of the Nobility, is classed in two volumes,—the one comprising the living subjects of the British Peerage, including their Collateral Branches (a feature peculiar to this work), and the other exhibiting concise historical sketches of their Ancestry and Families.

The obvious advantage of this mode of publication will be found in the option which it affords to purchasers. Each volume may be considered either as a whole or as a moiety, for each is in its peculiar character and import perfect; and he who is once possessed of that which, for the sake of distinction, in reference, it has been thought fit to denominate “The Genealogical Volume,” the contents of which, as matters of History, are necessarily permanent, may always, at a reduced and comparatively small charge, efficiently retain the entire work by the addition of that which will be found referred to by the title of “The Peerage,” and which the course of events will unavoidably require to be occasionally replaced by a revised copy.

AN
OF

---

THE PEERAGE divides itself primarily into the two classes of Lords Spiritual and Temporal. Secondly, into such as in virtue of their peerages, have seats and votes in the Lords, or Upper House of Parliament; and those in whom the right of so sitting and voting is inherent, but is called into operation only through the election of a certain number by their colleagues.

Thus all the adult temporal Peers and all the spiritual Peers (except two) of the realm of England sit by virtue of their creation or consecration. The temporal Peers of Scotland have each a vote in the election of sixteen members of their body, to represent the whole during the continuance of each distinct Parliament. The temporal Peers of Ireland, immediately after the passing of the Act of Union, elected under its authority, in the same manner, twenty-eight representatives, but for life; and the right of election has subsequently been exercised to supply, from time to time, the vacancies created by death. The spiritual Peers of Ireland are represented in Parliament, not by election, but by rotation; the two Archbishops sitting alternate years, and three Bishops in annual rotation.

Since the completion of the Imperial Parliament by these two Acts of Union, every newly-created Peer (except the new Peers of Ireland, of whom one is created under the Act on the extinction of three Irish Peerages) has been denominated a Peer of the United Kingdom, and has the right of sitting inherent from his creation. The Peers of Great Britain created subsequently to the Act of Union between England and Scotland in 1707, and prior to that between Great Britain and Ireland, in 1800, take their seats in the House of Lords in right of their creation. The several distinctions—namely, of the Peerage of England, of Great Britain, of the United Kingdom, of Scotland, and of Ireland—are noticed in this Work in describing the titles of each Peer, and also whether the present possessor of a Scotch or Irish Peerage is a representative in Parliament of his class.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

The Imperial Peerage of Great Britain is hereditary, and in the nature of its inheritance follows the same mode of descent with the Crown, from which, as the fountain of all honour within the Empire, it emanates; but with this difference, that whereas, in the descent of the Crown, the rule of primogeniture obtains in both sexes, in that of a Peerage the heirship in females of the same degree is co-equal. But as the power which gives has also the unalienable right of limiting the gift, such course of inheritance prevails only where the grant of the Peerage is without limit, as in those titles which originate in a summons to Parliament without a patent of creation. But in modern times it is usual for the Crown, in granting this high honour, to do so by letters-patent under the Great Seal; which instrument of creation also points out the line of inheritance, and most commonly in the male heirs of the body of the first Grantee.

The following is the ceremony in use in admitting a Peer into the House of Lords. After the Peers have taken their seats, the Lord Chancellor being on the woosack, Garter King at Arms, attired in his tabard, and bare-headed, comes into the House of Lords bearing the Patent (if there be one), and writ of summons of the Peer to be introduced, who then follows between two Peers of his own rank, attired in their Robes of Estate, and is led by them up to the Lord Chancellor, to whom he makes obeisance; Garter then presents the Patent and writ of summons to the Lord Chancellor, who directs the same to be read; this being done, the oaths are administered to the new Peer, and the Chancellor dismisses him to take his seat, to which he is directed by the two noblemen who introduce him, Garter leading the way. The writ is then delivered by the Lord Chancellor to the Clerk of the House, to be laid up. The new Peer forthwith rises from his seat and returns to the Lord Chancellor, who congratulates him on becoming a member of the House of Peers, or on his elevation to a higher grade in the Peerage, as the case may be.

The Peers, by their privileges as a body, cannot be arrested and taken into custody, unless for an indictable offence; this being a privilege of Parliament, they hold it in common with the members of the Lower House, except that the privilege of a Commoner ceases within a limited period after the dissolution of Parliament, while that of a Peer is perpetual. Also to assault by violence a member of either House, or his servant, is a contempt of Parliament, and punishable with severity.

Peers are not subject to make answer to questions from the Lower House of Parliament. As Peers of Parliament they are entitled to vote by proxy, the proxy being always given to a Lord of Parliament, styled the Procurator, for his Principal; which Procurator must be a spiritual for a spiritual, a temporal for a temporal Lord. Each Peer may also, with leave of the House, enter his protest upon the journals, expressing his dissent from any vote that has passed the House, with his reasons for such dissent. All bills that may in their consequences any way affect the rights of the Peerage, are, by the custom of Parliament, to have their first rise and beginning in the House of Lords, and to suffer no changes or amendments in the House of Commons.

A very ancient privilege of the Peerage, which now appears to have fallen into disuse, is declared by the Charter of the Forest, confirmed in Parliament, 9th HENRY III. ; namely, that every Lord spiritual or temporal summoned to Parliament, and passing through the King's forests, may, both in going and returning, kill one or two of the King's deer without warrant, in view of the forester if he be present, or on blowing a horn if he be absent, that he may not seem to take the King's venison by stealth.

The very important privilege of franking letters, which formerly the Peers possessed in common with the members of the Lower House of Parliament, was abandoned on the passing of the Penny Postage Act, which came into operation January 10th, 1840.

The privileges above enumerated belong to the Peers in their capacity of Members of Parliament ; they also possess others attached to their personal dignity.

In common with all the subjects of the realm, they can be tried only by their Peers ; thus a Commoner is tried by a jury of Commoners, but a Lord of Parliament, when criminally arraigned—that is, in cases of felony, treason, or misprison of treason—has this especial privilege, that all his Peers are summoned to the trial, and he is acquitted or condemned by the verdict of the majority ; which is given, not upon oath, as in the case of legal juries, but in the form, “ Guilty—or, Not guilty—upon my honour ;” pronounced by each Peer in his place, in answer to the question severally put by the Lord Steward, who presides in the Court, beginning with the youngest Baron, and proceeding upwards to the senior Prince of the Blood Royal. A Peer also answers to bills in Chancery upon his honour, and not upon his oath : but when he is examined as a witness, either in civil or criminal cases, or in the High Court of Parliament, he must be sworn. On all charges of misdemeanor, however, as libels, riots, perjury, conspiracy, &c., a Peer is tried, like a Commoner, by a jury. But he cannot be bound over to keep the peace in any other place than the Courts of Queen's Bench and Chancery. And the honour of Peers is so highly valued by the law, that it is much more penal to spread false reports of them, and certain other great officers of the realm, than of other men ; scandal against them being called by the peculiar name of scandalum magnatum, and subjected to punishment by divers ancient statutes. Peers are exempted from attending Court Leets or on the posse comitatus.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

A Peer cannot lose his Nobility but by death or attainder; if, indeed, he wastes his estate, so that he is not able to support his dignity, it has been said by the old writers that the King may degrade him; later authorities, however, expressly hold that a Peer cannot be degraded except by Act of Parliament; and there is but one instance of the exercise of this supreme jurisdiction, which was in the case of George Neville, Duke of Bedford, in the reign of EDWARD IV.

In the case of forfeiture by attainder, an important difference exists in the operation of the attainder, according as it may be for high treason or felony. A person upon whom judgment of high treason is pronounced, or who is outlawed upon an indictment of high treason, is said to be attainted of high treason, and his honours are forfeited to the Crown for ever. Nothing but a reversal of such an Act of attainder by Parliament will restore a Peer so attainted, or his posterity, to the dignity thus forfeited; nor in the event of the issue of the body of the person attainted failing, will the descendants of the person who was first created to the Peerage be admitted to it, without a removal of the attainder by which it was forfeited.

Dignities created either by writ or by patent become thus forfeited by an attainder for high treason; but by an attainder for felony an entailed dignity is not forfeited, though a dignity created by writ, and descendible to heirs-general, is forfeited by such attainder of the person possessed of it.

There is also a material difference in the effect of an attainder for high treason, between a dignity created by letters-patent, and one which originates in a writ of summons. In event of the eldest son of a Baron, holding his dignity by writ, or other person within the line of inheritance, being attainted of high treason, if he or his posterity should afterwards become entitled to the honour, by the decease of his father or other predecessors, the title so falling upon an attainted person becomes equally forfeited as if he had possessed it at the time of his attainder, and so would remain as long as any descendants from him were in existence, but would revive on the extinction of his issue, in favour of any heir whose claim to it would not have been derived through the attainted person. But in the case of an heir to a title by letters-patent being attainted of high treason, and dying before those persons whose title to the dignity was prior to his, the attainder would not prevent such dignity from afterwards falling upon the descendants of the person so attainted.

THE PEERAGE.

Having thus considered the principal circumstances incident to the Peerage at large, whether as a body or individually, it remains to take a view of such points as relate respectively to each grade of the Peerage, from the Princes of the Blood Royal to the Barons ; which title, though lowest in rank, formerly gave name to the whole Order, in the same manner as it is now spoken of under the generic appellation of Peers

Prince of Wales's Coronet.

Princess Royal's Coronet.

PRINCES OF THE BLOOD ROYAL.

In England, the Sovereign's sons, except the eldest, are of no other account in the constitution than by the dignity which they derive from their near connexion with the reigning Monarch and the possibility of their ascending the throne, or giving to it a future heir. They have no appanages allotted to them ; no titles of honour reserved for them, they are known only by the princely rank which their birth secures to them, until it is the pleasure of the Crown to give them a seat or a voice in the great council of the nation, by conferring a Peerage on them of its free grace and favour. Nevertheless, so high is the respect in which the Majesty of these realms is held, that especial honours are paid to all the children of the Crown ; they take precedence of all other subjects, are addressed by the style of Royal Highness, are served at table on the bended knee, except in presence of the Sovereign ; all subjects are to uncover their heads in their presence, and to kneel when admitted to kiss their hands.

The Prince of Wales, who is born Duke of Cornwall, and by creation is Earl of Chester, is of age from his birth, and a chair of state is placed for him on the right of the throne in the House of Lords. He is also, in right of his birth, a Knight of the Garter ; and it is expressly provided by the statutes, that all the King's sons, who are elected Knights of the Most Noble Order, shall be independent of the number twenty-five, of which the Order consists. The Sovereign's younger sons and grandsons, when created Peers, are entitled to seats in the House of Lords, at the left hand of the throne ; but when, by the death of their father, they become only collaterally related to the Crown, they take their places as first upon the Ducal bench.

The robe of estate of the Prince of Wales is of purple velvet lined with ermine, and trimmed with a cape of ermine descending from the neck to the elbow, distinguished by five rows of ermine tails. His cap is of velvet, turned up with ermine, and having a tassel of gold on the crown. Over it is worn a coronet composed of a circlet of gold enriched with jewels; above its upper rim rise four fleur-de-lis and four crosses-pattée alternately; from them an arched diadem of gold crosses the head, and is finished at top with a ball surmounted by a cross-pattée. This coronet is engraved at the head of the present article. It is, in fact, the same as the imperial crown, with the difference of having but one diadem, instead of that one being crossed, as in the crown, by a second. The coronet appertaining to the younger sons and to the daughters of the Sovereign differs from that of the Prince of Wales only by the omission of the diadem and the ball and cross which surmount it. The nephews and nieces of the Crown have their coronets differenced by the substitution of four strawberry leaves for the four fleur-de-lis.

Duke's Coronet.

DUKES.

The title of Duke, though first in rank, and in its derivation the most ancient, is much later in its introduction to our hereditary Peerage than that of Earl and Baron.

The word is found almost literally in the Latin Dux, which in ancient Rome signified the leader of an army, but in the Lower Empire became the title of a local military Lieutenant of the Emperor; in this sense it was transferred to the Western Empire, under the Franks and Germans, but speedily grew in the latter into the designation of hereditary feudal rank and power, inferior only to that of a King. Among our Saxon ancestors the title was in frequent use in its Latin military sense; but the title soon acquired a territorial signification, and in the earlier Saxon documents it is subscribed as synonymous with Comes or Earldorman, till the reign of Canute, when the Danish word Eorle began to prevail, though it did not entirely supersede the more ancient term before the time of the Normans.

THE PEERAGE.

After the Norman Conquest, which changed the military polity of the nation, the Kings themselves continuing for many generations Dukes of Normandy, they would not honour any subjects with the title of Duke, till the time of EDWARD III., who, claiming to be King of France, and thereby merging the Ducal in the Royal dignity, in the eleventh year of his reign created his son, Edward the Black Prince, Duke of Cornwall; and many, of the royal family especially, were afterwards raised to the like honour. "However, in the reign of Queen ELIZABETH, A.D. 1572, the whole order," says Judge Blackstone, "became utterly extinct." But this expression requires some qualification, for though the attainder of the Duke of Norfolk in that year did for the time extinguish the highest grade of the Peerage, yet it contained in itself the principle of vitality; since the heirs of two attainted Dukedoms, those of Norfolk and Somerset, enjoyed the honours of the Peerage by the respective titles of Earl of Arundel and Earl of Hertford, till the higher rank was restored to each by King CHARLES II., with the original precedency.

Soon after the temporary suspension of the Ducal title in England, King JAMES VI., then reigning in Scotland, bestowed it, for the first time in that kingdom (with some unimportant and temporary exceptions), on a subject not the son of a King; the nobleman so advanced being Esme Stuart, Earl of Lennox, the King's near relation on the father's side, whom, in 1581, he created Duke of Lennox. The same King having acquired the sovereignty of the three kingdoms, by succeeding to the throne of ELIZABETH after her decease, under the name of JAMES I., revived this order in England in 1623, by raising Ludovick, second Duke of Lennox, to the rank of Duke of Richmond; and the following day bestowed the same honour on his favourite, George Villiers, whom he created Duke of Buckingham. James added no other Dukes to the Peerage; and great as was the need of his son, King CHARLES, for the support of his most powerful nobles, he refrained from increasing this small number in England, though he renewed the title of Duke of Richmond to James Stuart, the brother and heir of the first Duke, on whose death it had become extinct by the failure of issue male; and in Scotland he created the Duke of Hamilton only. The Ducal dignity existed at the restoration of CHARLES II. in no families but these three. But that monarch, prodigal in all things, not only restored the two forfeited Dukedoms of Norfolk and Somerset, but gave new patents for the title with unsparing hand, especially to his illegitimate sons. Five English and three Scotch Dukedoms of this reign are still in existence, though two of the latter merge in the superior titles of Richmond and Buccleuch. To the same King Ireland was also indebted for the Ducal title, to which James, Marquis and twelfth Earl of Ormonde, was elevated in 1661, and subsequently was also created Duke of Ormonde in England. The English title was attained in 1715, in the person of his grandson the second Duke; and the Irish Dukedom finally became extinct in 1758. The only Duke now existing in Ireland is the Duke of Leinster, of the family of Fitz-Gerald, so created by King GEORGE III. in 1766.

In heraldic documents, a Duke is styled the High, Puissant, and Most Noble Prince; his general style is, His Grace, and Most Noble: in letters of form he is addressed, "My Lord Duke, may it please your Grace."

The coronation-robe of a Duke (and that in which he would be invested, were not the ceremonies of investiture now dispensed with in the patents of creation) is—a mantle of crimson velvet, lined with white taffeta, and trimmed with a cape of ermine reaching from the neck to the elbow, distinguished by four rows of black spots. His parliamentary robe is of fine scarlet cloth, lined with taffeta, and doubled with four guards of ermine at equal distances, with gold lace above each guard, and is tied up to the left shoulder with white ribbon. His cap is of crimson velvet, lined with ermine, having a gold tassel on the top. His coronet, worn over the cap, is a circlet of gold enriched with jewels, and set round with eight golden strawberry-leaves rising from its upper rim.

The eldest son of a Duke, though in law only an Esquire, takes by courtesy his father's second title, and is legally styled thus—"Charles Henry Gordon-Lennox, Esq., commonly called Earl of March;"—but to whatever grade of the Peerage that title may belong, he ranks next after the Marquises. The Duke's daughters and younger sons take by courtesy the title of Lady or Lord before their Christian and surnames, and are styled in law, "Anne Fitzalan-Howard, commonly called Lady Anne Fitzalan-Howard;" or "Edmund Bernard Fitzalan-Howard, Esq., commonly called Lord Edmund Bernard Fitzalan-Howard;" all the children also bear by courtesy the style of Right Honourable.

MARQUISES.

The word Marchio, in the Saxon and early Norman periods of our history, was applied to the Baron or Earl whose office it was to preserve the frontier (as on the borders of Wales or Scotland), usually called the Marches, free from the inroads of an enemy: so in Germany the Count or Graf of the border is called Markgraf, or Margrave. As distinguished from other titles of honour, it was unknown in this country till, in 1386, RICHARD II. created his favourite, Robert de Vere, Earl of Oxford, Marquis of Dublin, and gave him precedence between the degrees of Duke and Earl. From that time it occurs very sparingly in the lists of the Peerage, and seems most frequently to have been little more than a step to the higher honours of the Dukedom, and otherwise to have been peculiarly liable to extinction; for in the long period of 500 years from the date of that first creation, only in twelve instances has the title of Marquis existed as the chief honour of its possessor for a longer term than five years. The first Marquis was created Duke of Ireland in the year following his advance to the Marquisate. It appears from the circumstances attending a second experiment, that in those early times there existed a prejudice against this newly-invented honour. John de Beaufort (the eldest legitimated son of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster) was created by the same King, in 1397, Marquis of Dorset; and that dignity being taken from him in the first year of HENRY IV. by Act of Parliament. From this time it was not in use till the reign of HENRY VI., who again bestowed on a member of the family of Beaufort the title of Marquis of Dorset, which was soon afterwards merged in that of Duke of Somerset, and both were forfeited in 1463. The title of Dorset was, however, destined to be the first in which the marquisate should take root in the House of Lords; Thomas Grey, Lord Ferrers, of Groby, stepson of EDWARD IV., was by that King, in 1475, created Marquis of Dorset, which continued to be the distinguishing honour of his family till his grandson, father of the Lady Jane Grey, was created Duke of Suffolk in 1551, and attainted in 1554. In the same year that the Marquis of Dorset was advanced to the dukedom, there being then one other existing Marquis in the person of William Parr, brother to King HENRY VIII.'s sixth wife (which title having become extinct in 1571), William Paulet, Earl of Wiltshire, was created Marquis of Winchester, and though, after one hundred and thirty-eight years, his successor was advanced to the Dukedom of Bolton, the latter title being now extinct, the Marquis of Winchester continues at the head of the Peers of his rank to the present day, the next to him, indeed, bearing date only from 1784. Except for about twenty years in and after the reign of CHARLES I., when there were five Marquises, no more than three noblemen have ever borne this title cotemporaneously in England till the latter half of the reign of George III., since which period its ranks have been filled up to an equal number with the Dukes.

THE PEERAGE.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

This degree of nobility first appeared in Scotland in 1476, when JAMES III. created his second son, at his baptism, Marquis of Ormonde; "an empty title," says Douglas, and it does not appear what precedence was allotted to it, as that of Earl of Ross, which the young prince received four years afterwards, entirely superseded it. The title does not appear again in Scotland till, in the year 1599, JAMES VI. advanced the Earls of Huntly and Arran to the dignity of Marquis; since that time it has been borne successively by two or three of the first families on their passage to the superior rank of Dukes, till the Union fixed the Marquises of Tweeddale and Lothian in the second grade; to which the titles of Huntly and Queensberry have since been added, by the extinction of their respective dukedoms.

In Ireland the title was still more rare, indeed almost unknown, till near the close of last century, but there are now twelve Marquises in the Irish Peerage.

The Marquis's style is "Most Honourable the Marquis of —," and he is addressed, "My Lord Marquis."

The coronation robe of a Marquis is a mantle of crimson velvet, lined with white taffeta, and trimmed with a cape of ermine reaching from the neck to the elbow, distinguished by four rows of black spots on the right, and three on the left shoulder. His parliamentary robe, but for a similar distinction, would be the same as that of a Duke.

His cap and coronet also resemble the Duke, differenced only by four of the strawberry leaves on the rim being exchanged for as many golden balls. See the engraving above.

The eldest son of a Marquis, though in law only an Esquire, takes by courtesy his father's second title, and ranks next after the Earls. The Marquis's daughters and younger sons have by courtesy the titles of Ladies and Lords before their Christian and surnames, and all his children are styled Right Honourable.

EARLS.

This is the most ancient order of our nobility. In the Saxon times the grandees of the kingdom, under the name of Ealdorman

THE PEERAGE.

(which literally has the same meaning as the Latin Senior or Senator), had shires or other territories committed to their rule; and were sometimes from these governments denominated Shiremen, sometimes, from their military commands, described by the Saxon word Heretoga, and in Latin documents were styled Princeps, Dux, or Comes. These names seem all to be synonymous and indicative of a rank inferior to the Etheling or Princes of the blood, and superior to the Thane. With the Danes came in the title of Eorle, used in the parts subject to their power in a sense equivalent to this of Ealdorman, but admitted into the Saxon dominions with reference to the higher dignity of the King's immediate relatives; from whom, on the sway of Canute extending all over England, it descended to the same persons who had previously borne the title of Ealdorman.

This honour, with the authority and reverence attached to it, was conferred for life, or with an estate of inheritance at the King's pleasure; but in those unsettled times no evidence remains of any long succession in the same family.

Upon the Norman conquest, the territorial possessions of the Saxon nobility were declared forfeited upon perpetually recurring pretences, and transferred to the Norman followers of the Conqueror; to whom, also, other fiefs were dispensed under the new denomination of Count or Countee: this, however, was soon again supplanted by the ancient title of Earl; though, singularly enough, the alien word that would not attach itself to the persons of its Norman owners, took root in their English shires, which from thence are called Counties to this day. The Norman Earl, to which rank the most illustrious names of our early history belong, was invested with the third penny out of the Sheriff's court of the county; and there is some trace of his Saxon predecessor having also enjoyed it. Upon the increase of their number in latter times, this revenue ceased; and it was usual to assign to them, in the patent of creation, in lieu of it, for the support of their dignity, a certain sum, frequently twenty pounds, out of the profits of the county, which also is obsolete; indeed the Earls have become so numerous that they now usually derive their titles from a town or village, or from a family name, instead of a County, as formerly.

The Earls and Barons, as they are the most ancient, so also have they always been the most numerous Orders of the Peerage; though in England, at the present time, the number of Barons nearly doubles that of Earls. In Ireland the number is nearly equal. But in Scotland, where the title is known to have existed almost four hundred years before any other parliamentary honour is recognised by official documents, this Order is more numerous than all the other degrees of the Peerage collectively.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

The Earl's style is "the Right Honourable the Earl of ——" ; he is addressed as "My Lord."

The robes of an Earl are differenced from those of a Duke by having three instead of four rows of ermine ; in other respects they are precisely the same.

His cap, also, is the same as a Duke's. His coronet is a circlet of gold enriched with jewels, from which rise eight points surmounted by as many balls of gold, and between them eight small strawberry leaves close to the upper rim of the circlet.—See the engraving above.

The eldest son, though in law only an Esquire, takes by courtesy his father's second title. The daughters have by courtesy the title of Ladies before their Christian and surnames, and, as well as the eldest son, are styled Right Honourable. The younger sons are styled Honourable.

VISCOUNTS.

In the Saxon times, next in rank to the Ealdorman was the Highgereve, or Shire-reve, an officary dignity only, derived immediately from the King, and having still its representative in our High Sheriff ; they were not deputies to the Earl, but held for the King's use such countries or territories as had no Ealdorman ; and in those that had, the Sheriff had the custody of whatever rights the King reserved to himself in them. In Latin documents those officers were styled Vice-comites, but the particle vice did not then denote subordination, other than to the King, any more than it now does in the dignity we are considering.

This was introduced as a title of hereditary nobility in England, but without a shadow of official trust, by HENRY VI., who found it established in his kingdom of France. In 1440, he created John, previously Baron Beaumont, Viscount Beaumont, and gave him place above the Barons ; the title became extinct by the death of the first Viscount's son, in 1507. Meanwhile this rank had been conferred on the Lords Lovel and Welles, both extinct before 1507 ; and L'Isle, which failed in 1512, when the Viscount's degree no longer existed in the Peerage, till, after an interval of twenty-one years, this title of L'Isle was revived. It failed again in 1541, but the Earl of Hertford, afterwards Duke of Somerset and Protector, then held the title of Viscount Beauchamp, though merged in the superior rank of his Earldom. He was attainted and all his honours forfeited in 1552; two years previous to which period, Walter Devereux, Baron Ferrars of Chartley, had been created Viscount Hereford. This dignity was merged in the Earldom of Essex in 1572, from which time, for nearly fifty years, none bore the title of Viscount as their chief honour; and the forfeiture of Robert, the celebrated Earl of Essex, in 1600, again suspended the Order, till his son was restored to his dignities in 1603; on his death, in 1646, the Viscounty emerged by the extinction of the Earldom of Essex, and Hereford has since, without farther interruption, been borne as the principal title of the first English Viscount.

In 1620, three Viscounts were created, and the number was gradually increased till 1628, when they amounted to nine, the largest number this rank has ever counted, before the accession of GEORGE III. They are still not numerous as compared with Earls and Barons, but about equal with the Dukes and Marquises.

As HENRY VI. borrowed the title of Viscount from his French dominions, so, after JAMES VI. of Scotland had ascended the throne of England, it makes its first appearance in the Scottish Peerage. In 1606, the Viscounts of Fentoun and Haddington were created; of them, the former was advanced, in 1619, to the Earldom of Kellie, and the latter became extinct in 1625, but not till other creations had raised the number of Viscounts, independently of such as bore superior titles from the one which remained, in 1619, to five; and though occasionally fluctuating, the number of this order continued on the whole to increase, till, in the year 1700, they amounted to seventeen, besides those that were merged; but from that period they have gradually declined, leaving at the present time no more than four. This class has always been comparatively large in the Irish Peerage. Early in the last century it numerically nearly doubled that of either Earls or Barons; at present it is exceeded in number by both these ranks, but is considerably more numerous than the English Viscounts.

The Viscount's style is "the Right Honourable the Viscount —;" he is addressed as "My Lord."

The robes of a Viscount are in form the same as have been described under the higher orders of the Peerage—differenced by having three rows of black spots on the right, and two on the left shoulder.

His cap is the same as a Duke's. His coronet is a circlet of gold enriched with jewels, the upper rim of which is surmounted by fourteen balls set close together, as represented in the engraving above.

His sons and daughters are all styled Honourable, there being no distinctive title for the eldest son.

BARONS.

An inferior order of territorial Nobility was known in the Anglo-Saxon polity, divided into the spiritual and secular classes, by the names of Messe Thegnes and World Thegnes. The former were not Bishops who by that name (Bisceopes) ranked with the Earls, but subordinate Priests, ranked by the laws of King ATHELSTAN on an equality with the secular Thanes. The latter were hereditarily endowed with fair possessions, held of the King by tenure of Knight's service, and called Tainland. They belonged to the great nobility, though the officinary dignity of Highereve ranked before them.

To constitute a Thane, it was necessary that he should possess a distinct office in the King's Court; or, being a churle or countryman, that he should have "fully five hides of his own land, a church, a kitchen, a bellhouse, and a boroughgate with a seat." In these curious particulars, handed down by a Saxon writer, an interesting insight is afforded us into the manners and piety of our ancestors. A great Lord must have a church for the edification of his family and retainers; he must also keep a court in which justice may be administered to them—the original of the Court Baron, still existing in all manors, and described under those simple words, "sitting in the gate," which we so often read in the Scripture; the hospitality required of them is expressed in the kitchen and the bellhouse being the only indispensable parts of a mansion; the bellhouse denoted the hall of entertainment to which the guests, no doubt, were summoned, as is still practised in the country seats of our gentry, by ringing a bell; and it is remarkable that a statute of RICHARD II. calls the King's Hall "Tinel-le-Roy," from the tinkling of a bell.

Under the Norman monarchy, the term Baron gradually superseded that of Thane; at first they were used indiscriminately, except that Baron is never applied, as in the Saxon description of a Thane, to the servants of the King's Court in that capacity; a Baron must hold territorial Barony, by feudal service, immediately of the King. Selden, in his "Titles of Honour," describing the principles of the feudal Baronage, divides the time from the Conquest into three periods: the first comprehending from the Conquest to the latter end of the reign of King JOHN; the second, to the eleventh year of RICHARD II.; the third, from the latter period to that in which he wrote, and which may now be extended to the present time.

In the first period, all who held any quantity of land directly from the King had, without distinction, a right to be summoned to Parliament; and this right being confined solely to the King's tenants, of consequence all the Peers of Parliament during that period sat by virtue of tenure and a writ of summons. But towards its close the influx of Peers became so large and troublesome, that the King was obliged to divide them, and summon only the greater Barons in person; leaving the small ones to be summoned by the Sheriff, and (as it is said by Blackstone) to sit by representation in another house; which gave rise to the separation of the two Houses of Parliament.

In the beginning of the second period—that is, in the last year of the reign of King JOHN, this distinction was confirmed by Magna Charta, in which the King declares, faciemus summoneri archiepiscopos, episcopos, abbates, comites, et majores barones regni sigillatim per literas nostras, et præterea faciemus summoneri in generali per vicecomites et ballivos nostros omnes alios, qui in capite tenent de nobis ad certum diem, &c. Tenure, therefore, now began to be disregarded, and persons who held no lands of the Crown were summoned to Parliament by the King's writ; and it has been held that right by tenure ceased under HENRY III., and that no person was then considered to be entitled to sit in the Parliament, unless he was summoned thereto by the King's writ; though it is contended, on the authority of a proceeding in the Parliament of 1225, that the Crown never possessed the prerogative of omitting to summon to every Parliament the Barones majores, who had formerly been entitled to sit in right of their tenures. That the right to a seat in Parliament, as attached to the possession of certain lands, is now wholly abolished, is evidenced by the proceedings in the case of Benjamin Mildmay, Esq., who, in 1668, presented a petition, claiming the Barony of Fitz-Walter, as heir-general of Robert Fitz-Walter, summoned to Parliament in the twenty-third of EDWARD I., A.D. 1295, and was opposed by Robert Cheeke, Esq. Whereupon, his Majesty was pleased to order in council that the cause should be heard by the Privy Council, on the 19th January, 1669, when the two Chief Justices and the Lord Chief Baron were ordered to attend. The Counsel for the said Robert Cheeke affirmed that the same was a Barony by tenure, and ought to go along with the land; which the Counsel of the Petitioner denied, and offered to argue upon the same. Upon which, both parties being ordered to withdraw, the nature of a Barony by tenure being discoursed, it was found to have been discontinued for many ages, and not in being, and so not fit to be revived, or to admit any pretence of right of succession thereupon. It was ordered by his Majesty in Council, "that the Petitioner is admitted humbly to address himself to his Majesty for his writ to sit in the House of Peers as Baron Fitz-Walter," and he was so summoned accordingly. In every instance since, which has had any bearing upon the question of Baronies by Tenure, the resolutions of the House of Lords have tended to confirm that of the Privy Council in 1669.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

The third period commences in 1387, with the first instance of a creation by patent, when RICHARD II. created John de Beauchamp, Baron Beauchamp of Kydderminster, with remainder to the heirs male of his body, since which period Peerages have been indifferently created by writ or patent, but in modern times by patent only, and usually with limitation to the heirs male of the body, but without prejudice to the right of the Crown to grant to any other remainder, or, which is less frequently (if indeed ever) exercised, to create a Barony by writ.

With regard to the mode in which a Peerage is hereditary, it has been already shown, that in the first century and a half of Norman rule, a Barony appears to have appertained to the tenure of a certain demesne, the honour consequently following the land, however conveyed. Also, that the inheritance of Peerages conferred by patent is, by the instrument of creation, so defined, or rather limited from what would otherwise have been its natural course, as to be incapable of any other than the designed succession. It therefore remains to explain the effect on the inheritance of a title derived from a writ of summons, and a sitting under it, without which consummation the writ conveys no right. And this effect is so intelligible to Englishmen, from its near affinity to the operation of a fee simple, that a few particulars only require notice, in which it differs from that well-understood rule of common law. First, then, it is distinctly laid down that the writ of summons conveys no inheritance except to the descendants of the first Baron who took his seat under it. Secondly, on the failure of an equally proximate male the right of females is admitted, as in inheritances at common law; but with a difference growing out of the nature of the estate, which, being a Parliamentary Barony, is indivisible.* Thus, if a Baron leaves no son, the honour becomes vested in his daughters ; if he has only one daughter, she succeeds to it, but if there be more daughters than one, the title falls into ABEYANCE amongst them, and continues in that state either until all but one of the daughters be deceased without issue, or the sole heir of only one daughter survives ; in which case the Barony devolves on the surviving daughter, or the heir of her body. If, however, the representation of such daughter be among her co-heirs, the dignity falls into abeyance among them, but the moment the representation is vested in an individual, that individual will have an immediate right to the Barony. During the continuance of the abeyance it is the prerogative of the Crown to terminate it, by conferring the Peerage on any one of the co-heirs ; no one being injured by this operation of the royal favour, as no one could claim the title until all the other co-heirs were extinct. The person so preferred, however, must be the heir-general of one of the original co-heirs, or of some later co-heir of her moiety of the inheritance. The manner of terminating the abeyance of a dignity in favour of a male co-heir who is not a Peer, is by the issuing of a writ of summons, by the style and title of the Barony in abeyance ; but when the person in whose favour an abeyance is to be determined is already a Peer, and has a higher dignity, the Sovereign confirms the Barony to him by letters patent ; and in the case of a female, an abeyance is also terminated by patent. On failure of the descendants of the body of the person so summoned, or confirmed by patent, the Barony would again fall into abeyance, unless such failure involved that of all the other branches, leaving a sole representative of one of the original co-heirs, who in that case would take the title by right of inheritance from his ancestor. It must be remembered that the representation of a Barony by writ is always vested in the heirs of the body of the person first created ; thus, on the death of a Baron who inherited the dignity, without issue, the title, if he has no brother living, or there be no issue of such brother, will become vested in his sister or sisters, or their heirs ; in default of which it will revert to his eldest uncle of the side from whom he inherited the dignity, or his issue ; failing which, to his aunts and their issue ; the females of each generation being preferred to the males of the preceding generation. On the failure of the issue of a Baron who inherited a dignity from his mother, and also the issue of his mother, the dignity of course devolves on his maternal ancestors.

It may here be remarked that the style of summons to Parliament as addressed to an English Baron differs from that addressed to the other orders of Nobility : these latter are always summoned by their Christian names and titles, as Henry, Duke of Norfolk ; John, Marquis of Winchester. But the Barons by their Christian and Surnames, to which the title is added, with the addition of the Norman Style, "Chevalier;" thus, Richard Henry Fitzroy Somerset, of Raglan, in the County of Monmouth, Chevalier.

When the eldest son of a Peer is summoned by writ to the House of Lords in his father's lifetime, and placed in a Barony vested in his father, the writ neither takes the Barony out of the father, nor creates any new estate in it in the son, but is merely allowed to enable him to sit in Parliament. If, however, he should die before his father, leaving an heir of his body capable of inheriting the Barony, according to the original limitation of it, such heir, if a son of full age, would be entitled to a Writ of Summons.

The rank of Baron has always had the preponderance in number over the other classes of the English Peerage, but at present it is a more numerous body than all the other Peers collectively.

In Scotland, the title of Baron does not appear till the year 1430, when "Thomas Dominus Somerville" is named as one of the conservators of the truce with England. After this time the title became common, but the dates of the earlier creations are so uncertain, that it is not easy to settle the precedence of the respective Barons. Where no patent appears, the descent of a Peerage is usually, as in England, to the heirs-general, but with preference of primogeniture amongst the daughters as well as amongst the sons; and this is frequently the line of descent marked out by the patents or charters of creation. The number of Barons has never been great in the Peerage of Scotland, and is now about half that of the Earls.

Kingsale, the first Irish Barony, bears date from 1181. The nature of the Irish Baronies resembles those of England, being originally founded on feudal tenure, afterwards on writs of summons to Parliament, and lastly on creations by Patent. The number is about equal to that of the Earls.

The style of a Baron is "the Right Honourable Lord ——" he is addressed as "My Lord." His robes are differenced from those of a Viscount by having two rows of ermine spots only; his coronet, by having only six balls on its upper rim. His sons and daughters are all styled Honourable.

THE LORDS SPIRITUAL.

We have already seen that by the laws of King ATHELSTAN the Bishops were ranked with the Ealdormen or Earls, and the Messe Thanes, or Priests, with the World or Secular Thanes. But they were exempt from the services which the Crown was entitled to claim from the secular nobility; which, however, WILLIAM the Conqueror, early in his reign, imposed on the Bishops, by converting their lands into secular Baronies; thereby requiring of them both military service and attendance on the King's Courts, subsequently the High Court of Parliament; and this attendance was especially confirmed by the Constitutions of Clarendon, in the reign of HENRY II.

The Archbishop of Canterbury ranks as the first subject in the realm, next after the Blood Royal. The Lord High Chancellor is the second, and the Archbishop of York the third. Bishops, by a statute of HENRY VIII., rank next after the Viscounts, taking precedence of all Barons.

The Archbishop is styled "His Grace," and "The Most Reverend Father in God, the Lord Archbishop of ———." A Bishop is "The Right Reverend Father in God, the Lord Bishop of ———." He is styled "My Lord." The Archbishop of Canterbury writes himself, "by Divine Providence, Archbishop of Canterbury, &c." The Archbishop of York and the other Bishops use the form, "by Divine Permission." The Mitre is a high cap, pointed and cleft at the top, with two pendants fringed at the ends hanging from the lower part of the cap; the Bishop's cap is surmounted with a fillet of gold enriched with jewels; that of the Archbishop with a ducal coronet.

The Bishop of Sodor and Man, and the junior Bishop for the time being (except those of London, Durham, and Winchester), have no seat in the House of Lords.

THE BARONETAGE.

THE last of hereditary titles is that of Baronet. It has been observed that in the reign of King JOHN the Barones Minores lost the right of individual summons to Parliament; the title of Baronet was afterwards frequently applied to this class of nobility, and is so used in a statute as late as the reign of King RICHARD II. But it was a general term without any defined application till the reign of JAMES I. This monarch, finding his expenses outrun his revenue, amongst many devices to recruit his treasury, erected, in 1611, the Order of Baronets—an hereditary distinction next in rank to the Peerage—and offered it to two hundred gentlemen of good birth, possessing a clear estate of one thousand pounds a year; on condition that each one should pay into the King's Exchequer, in three equal instalments, a sum equivalent to three years' pay of thirty soldiers, at eightpence per day per man; the first instalment to be paid on the delivery of the patent. The state of Ireland afforded an ostensible plea for this open and unprecedented sale of dignities; the province of Ulster especially was in a state of almost hopeless anarchy, and the patents of the new Baronets, which were all word for word the same, the names of the parties only excepted, embodied a declaration that the money so raised should be employed in establishing an army for the reduction and good government of that Province, in witness of which design the cognizance of the Order was to be the bloody hand of Ulster, borne in a Canton on their Arms, or more heraldically, on a field, argent, a sinister hand, erect, gules.

In 1619, the same dignity was created in Ireland, upon the same terms; and shortly before the death of King JAMES, the plantation of the province of Nova Scotia, in North America, was assigned as a cause for extending the same offers to the landed proprietors of Scotland. The King did not live to fulfil his intention, but CHARLES I., his son and successor, soon after his accession, created the first Baronet of Nova Scotia.

MEM.—According to the Usage of Parliament, when the House appoints a Select Committee, the Lords appointed to serve upon it are named in the Order of their Rank, beginning with the Highest; and so, when the House sends a Committee to a Conference with the Commons, the Lord highest in Rank is called first, and the rest go forth in like Order; but when the Whole House is called over for any Purpose within the House, or for the purpose of proceeding forth to Westminster Hall, or upon any public Solemnity, the call begins invariably with the Junior Baron.

LIST OF THE PEERS COLLECTIVELY,

IN THEIR ORDER OF PRECEDENCE.

E signifies English, S Scotch, I Irish; all that follow are of the same Peerage till differently marked. All Peers bearing two titles of equal grade are named by both, but placed in the Precedence of the first, and classed in the Peerage to which the superior title belongs.

By the Act for the Union of Ireland, 39 and 40 George III. chap. 67, it is enacted, "The Lords of Parliament, on the part of Ireland, shall have the same privileges as the Lords on the part of Great Britain; and all the Lords Spiritual of Ireland shall have rank next after the Lords Spiritual of the same rank in Great Britain, and shall enjoy the same privileges, (except those depending upon sitting in the House of Lords,) and the Temporal Peers of Ireland shall have rank next after the Peers of Great Britain at the time of the Union; and all Peerages of Ireland and of the United Kingdom, created after the Union, shall have rank according to creation, and all Peerages of Great Britain and Ireland shall in all other respects be considered as Peerages of the United Kingdom, and the Peers of Ireland shall enjoy the same privileges, except those depending upon sitting in the House of Lords."

On the extinction of three Irish Peerages, the Sovereign has the power to create one new Irish Peerage, which is to rank among the English Peers, according to their dates.

PEERS OF THE BLOOD ROYAL.

THE PRINCE OF WALES, DUKE OF CORNWALL.

The most high, puissant, and illustrious Prince ALBERT-EDWARD, Prince of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, PRINCE OF WALES, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Coburg and Gotha,† Great Steward of Scotland, Duke of Cornwall and Rothsay, Earl of Chester, Carrick, and Dublin, Baron of Renfrew, and Lord of the Isles, K.G., Extra Knight of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India; a General in the Army, Col. 10th Hussars, Captain-General of the Hon. Artillery Company, Honorary Colonel of the Oxford, and of the Cambridge, University Corps, and of the Middlesex Civil Service Corps, of Rifle Volunteers, and President of the Society of Arts. His Royal Highness was born at Buckingham Palace 9 Nov. 1841, created Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, by Patent under the Great Seal, 4 Dec. 1841, baptized at St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, 25 Jan. 1842, m. 10 March 1863, H.R.H. the Princess Alexandra-Caroline-Mary-Charlotte-Louisa-Julia, eldest dau. of Christian IX., King of Denmark, b. 1 Dec. 1844, and has issue, *Prince Albert-Victor-Christian-Edward, b. 8 Jan. 1864.

Creations.—Prince of Wales—Prince Edward, 2nd son of King Edward the First, was created Prince of Wales a few days after his birth, in April 1284; but having, in consequence of the death of his elder brother, Prince Alphonso, succeeded to the Throne of his father as King Edward the Second, the Principality became united to the Crown. Edward the Third, his son, was never Prince of Wales, but he invested his son, Edward the Black Prince, with the Principality in 1343, since which time the eldest son of the Crown of England has borne the title of Prince of Wales, usually by creation, but in some few cases simply by being so declared.

Great Steward of Scotland, Duke of Rothsay, &c.—The high office which gave name to the Royal and Noble House of Stuart, was granted to its ancestor, Walter, the son of Alan, and confirmed by Malcolm the Fourth in 1157, to him and his heirs, who continued to hold it in lineal descent till Robert the Stewart ascended the Throne of Scotland in 1371, as King Robert the Second. King Robert the Third, son and successor of Robert the Second, was created Earl of Carrick in 1363; and by Act of Parliament in 1469, the titles of Prince and High Steward of Scotland, Duke of Rothsay, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, and Lord of the Isles, were vested in the eldest son and heir apparent of the Crown of Scotland for ever.

† H.R.H. resigned Oct. 1863, on behalf of himself and his descendants, all right and title to the Dukedom of Coburg and Gotha.

Duke of Cornwall.—King Edward the Third created his eldest son, Edward the Black Prince, Duke of Cornwall, with limitation to him and his heirs, eldest sons and heirs apparent to the Crown of England, for ever, by Patent in 1337.

Earl of Chester.—Edward Prince of Wales, then eldest son of King Edward the First, was created Earl of Chester in 1304. Edward the Third, his son, though never Prince of Wales, bore the title of Earl of Chester before his accession to the throne; he created his son Edward the Black Prince, and subsequently his grandson, afterwards King Richard the Second, Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, and this Earldom was by Act of Parliament in 1397, the 21st year of the latter monarch, united to the principality of Wales, since which period it has always been joined in the Patents of creation to the Prince of Wales.

Earl of Dublin.—Her Majesty was pleased to direct letters patent to be passed under the Great Seal, granting the dignity of an Earl of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland unto His Royal Highness Albert-Edward, Prince of Wales, K.G., and his heirs, Kings of the said United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for ever, by the name, style, and title of Earl of Dublin; 10 Sept. 1849.

MESSRS. HURST AND BLACKETT'S
LIST OF NEW WORKS.

MY LIFE AND RECOLLECTIONS. By the
HON. GRANTLEY F. BERKELEY. 2 vols., 8vo, with Portrait. 30s.

Among the other distinguished persons mentioned in this work are:—Kings George III. and IV., and William IV.; Queens Charlotte, Caroline, and Victoria; the Prince of Wales; the Dukes of Kent, Cumberland, Sussex, Cambridge, d'Aumale, Wellington, Norfolk, Richmond, Beaufort, Bedford, Devonshire, St. Albans, Manchester, Portland; the Marquises of Anglesea, Buckingham, Downshire, Waterford, Tavistock, Londonderry, Clanricarde, Breadalbane, Worcester; Lords Mulgrave, Conynham, Clanwilliam, Wynford, Palmerston, Bathurst, Cantelupe, Roden, Eldon, Grey, Holland, Coleraine, Rokeby, Munster, Chelmsford, Ducie, Alvanley, Chesterfield, Sefton, Derby, Vane, Mexborough, George Bentinck, Edward Somerset, Fitzclarence, Egremont, Count d'Orsay; the Bishop of Oxford, Cardinal Wiseman; Sirs Lumley Skeffington, William Wynn, Percy Shelley, Godfrey Webster, Samuel Romilly, Matthew Tierney, Francis Burdett; Messrs. Fox, Sheridan, Whitbread, Brummell, Byng, Townsend, Bernal, Maginn, Cobden, & right, O'Connell, Crockford, &c.; the Duchesses of Devonshire, Gordon, Rutland, Argyll; Ladies Clermont, Berkeley, Shelley, Guest, Fitzhardinge, Bury, Blessington, Craven, Essex, Strangford, Paget; Mesdames Fitzherbert, Coutts, Baddeley Jordan, Billington, Mardyn, Shelley; Misses Landon, Kemble, Paton, &c.

"There is a large fund of amusement in these volumes. The details of the author's life are replete with much that is interesting. A book so brimful of anecdote cannot but be successful."—Athenæum.

"This work contains a great deal of amusing matter; and that it will create a sensation no one can doubt. Mr. Berkeley can write delightfully when he pleases. His volumes will, of course, be extensively read, and as a literary venture may be pronounced a success."—Post.

"A clever, freespoken man of the world, son of an earl with £70,000 a-year, who has lived from boyhood the life of a club-man, sportsman, and man of fashion, has thrown his best stories about himself and his friends into an anecdotic autobiography. Of course it is eminently readable. Mr. Grantley Berkeley writes easily and well. The book is full of pleasant stories, all told as easily and clearly as if they were related at a club-window, and all with point of greater or less piquancy."—Spectator.

"As a book of Fashionable, Sporting, Literary, and Political Recollections, this work is singularly delightful and entertaining."—Sun.

"Space forbids us pursuing the various enticing themes which are scattered up and down these volumes. The reminiscences of the author, his anecdotal notices of persons who have been famous in political, fashionable, and sporting circles, and his own lengthened experiences in the same spheres are entertaining in the highest degree. All those portions of the work are written with dash and spirit, and the immense fund of gossip Mr. Grantley Berkeley so pleasantly retails will certainly render his book most popular."—Herald.

REMINISCENCES OF THE OPERA. By BEN- JAMIN LUMLEY, Twenty Years' Director of Her Majesty's Theatre. 8vo, with Portrait of the Author by Count D'Orsay. 16s.

"Mr. Lumley's book, with all its sparkling episodes, is really a well-digested history of an institution of social importance in its time, interspersed with sound opinions and shrewd and mature reflections."—Times.

"As a repertory of anecdote, we have not for a long while met with anything at all comparable to these unusually brilliant and most diversified Reminiscences. They reveal the Twenty Years' Director of Her Majesty's Theatre to us in the thick and throng of all his radiant associations. They take us luringly—as it were, led by the button-hole—behind the scenes, in every sense of that decoying and profoundly attractive phrase. They introduce us to all the stars—now singly, now in very constellations. They bring us rapidly, delightfully, and exhilaratingly to a knowledge so intimate of what has really been doing there in the Realm of Song, not only behind the scenes and in the green-room, but in the reception-apartment of the Director himself, that we are au courant with all the whims and oddities of the strange world in which he fills so high and responsible a position. Reading Mr. Lumley, we now know more than we have ever known before of such Queens of the Lyric stage as Pasta, and Catalini, and Malibran, and Grisi, and Sontag, and Piccolomini—of such light-footed fairies of the ballet as Taglioni, and Fanny Ellsler, and Certo—of such primi tenori as Rubini, and Mario, and Gardoni, and Giuglini—of such baritones as Ronconi and Tamburini—or of such bassi profondi as the wondrous Staudigl and the mighty Lablache. Nay, Mr. Lumley takes us out of the glare of the footlights, away from the clang of the orchestra, into the dream-haunted presence of the great composers of the age, bringing us face to face, as it were, among others, with Rossini, and Mendelssohn, and Meyerbeer, and Verdi, and Balfe, and Donizetti. He lets us into the mysteries of his correspondence—now with Count Cavour, now with Prince Metternich. For, in his doings, in his movements, in his negotiations, Sovereigns, Prime Ministers, Ambassadors, and Governments are, turn by turn, not merely courteously, but directly and profoundly interested! Altogether, Mr. Lumley's book is an enthralling one. It is written with sparkling vivacity, and is delightfully interesting throughout."—Sun.

"Everyone ought to read Mr. Lumley's very attractive 'Reminiscences of the Opera.' In the fashionable, dramatic, and literary worlds its cordial welcome is assured. It is a most entertaining volume. Anecdote succeeds to anecdote in this pleasant book with delightful fluency."—Post.

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE. By VICTOR HUGO.

Authorized English Translation. 1 vol., 8vo, 12s.

"M. Victor Hugo has produced a notable and brilliant book about Shakespeare. M. Hugo sketches the life of Shakespeare, and makes of it a very effective picture. Imagination and pleasant fancy are mingled with the facts. There is high colouring, but therewith a charm which has not hitherto been found in any portrait of Shakespeare painted by a foreign hand. The biographical details are manipulated by a master's hand, and consequently there is an agreeable air of novelty even about the best known circumstances."—Athenæum.

CHEAP EDITION OF LES MISÉRABLES. By VICTOR HUGO. THE AUTHORIZED COPYRIGHT ENGLISH TRANSLATION, Illustrated by MILLAIS, 5s., bound.

"We think it will be seen on the whole that this work has something more than the beauties of an exquisite style or the word-compelling power of a literary Zeus to recommend it to the tender care of a distant posterity; that in dealing with all the emotions, passions, doubts, fears, which go to make up our common humanity, M. Victor Hugo has stamped upon every page the hall mark of genius and the loving patience and conscientious labour of a true artist. But the merits of 'Les Misérables' do not merely consist in the conception of it as a whole, it abounds page after page with details of unequalled beauty."—Quarterly Review.

"'Les Misérables' is not merely the work of a truly great man, but it is his great and favourite work. Victor Hugo has wonderful poetical power, and he has the faculty which hardly any other French novelist possesses, of drawing beautiful as well as striking pictures. Another feature for which Victor Hugo's book deserves high praise is its perfect purity. Anyone who reads the Bible and Shakespeare may read 'Les Misérables.' The story is admirable, and is put together with unsurpassable art, care, life, and simplicity."—Daily News.

A WINTER IN UPPER AND LOWER EGYPT.

By G. A. HOSKINS, Esq., F.R.G.S. 1 vol., with Illustrations, 15s.

"An eminently interesting and attractive book, containing much valuable information. Intending Nile travellers, whether for science, health, or recreation, could not have a better companion. Mr. Hoskins's descriptions are vigorous and graphic, and have the further merit of being fresh and recent, and of presenting many striking pictures of Egypt and its people in our own days."—Herald.

POINTS OF CONTACT BETWEEN SCIENCE

AND ART. By His Eminence CARDINAL WISEMAN. 8vo. 5s.

"Cardinal Wiseman's interesting work contains suggestions of real value. It is divided into three heads, treating respectively of painting, sculpture, and architecture. The cardinal handles his subject in a most agreeable manner."—Art Journal.

GREECE AND THE GREEKS. Being the Narrative of a Winter Residence and Summer Travel in Greece and its Islands. By FREDRIKA BREMER. Translated by MARY HOWITT. 2 vols.

"The best book of travels which this charming authoress has given to the public."—Athenæum.

CHEAP EDITION OF BARBARA'S HISTORY.

By AMELIA B. EDWARDS. 5s., bound and Illustrated.

FROM THE TIMES.—"It is not often that we light upon a novel of so much merit and interest as 'Barbara's History.' It is a work conspicuous beyond the average for taste and literary culture, and felicitous in its delineation of some very delicate and refined shades of character. It is a very graceful and charming book, with a well-managed story, clearly-cut characters, and sentiments expressed with an exquisite elocution. The dialogues especially sparkle with repartee. It is a book which the world will like, and which those who commence it will care to finish. This is high praise of a work of art, and so we intend it."

A PERSONAL NARRATIVE OF THIRTEEN YEARS' SERVICE AMONGST THE WILD TRIBES OF KHONDISTAN, FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF HUMAN SACRIFICE. By Major-General JOHN CAMPBELL, C.B. 1 vol., 8vo., with Illustrations, 14s.

"Major-General Campbell's book is one of thrilling interest, and must be pronounced the most remarkable narrative of the present season."—Athenæum.

THE DESTINY OF NATIONS, AS INDICATED IN PROPHECY. By the Rev. JOHN CUMMING, D.D. 1 vol. 7s. 6d.

"Among the subjects expounded by Dr. Cumming in this interesting volume are The Little Horn, or, The Papacy; The Waning Crescent, Turkey; The Lost Ten Tribes; and the Future of the Jews and Judea, Africa, France, Russia, America, Great Britain, &c."—Observer. "One of the most able of Dr. Cumming's works."—Messenger.

MEMOIRS OF JANE CAMERON, FEMALE CONVICT. By a PRISON MATRON, Author of "Female Life in Prison." 2 vols., 21s.

"This narrative, as we can well believe, is truthful in every important particular—a faithful chronicle of a woman's fall and rescue. It is a book that ought to be widely read."—Examiner. "There can be no doubt as to the interest of the book, which, moreover, is very well written."—Athenæum.

"Once or twice a-year one rises from reading a book with a sense of real gratitude to the author, and this book is one of these. There are many ways in which it has a rare value. The artistic touches in this book are worthy of De Foe."—Reader.

TRAVELS AND ADVENTURES OF AN OFFICER'S WIFE IN INDIA, CHINA, AND NEW ZEALAND. By Mrs. MUTER, Wife of Lieut-Colonel D. D. MUTER, 13th (Prince Albert's) Light Infantry. 2 vols. 21s.

"Mrs. Muter's travels deserve to be recommended, as combining instruction and amusement in a more than ordinary degree. The work has the interest of a romance added to that of history."—Athenæum.

TRAVELS ON HORSEBACK IN MANTCHU TARTARY: being a Summer's Ride beyond the GREAT WALL OF CHINA. By GEORGE FLEMING, Military Train. 1 vol., royal 8vo., with Map and 50 Illustrations.

"Mr. Fleming's narrative is a most charming one. He has an untrodden region to tell of, and he photographs it and its people and their ways. Life-like descriptions are interspersed with personal anecdotes, local legends, and stories of adventure, some of them revealing no common artistic power."—Spectator.

"Mr. Fleming has many of the best qualities of the traveller—good spirits, an excellent temper, sound sense, the faculty of observation, and a literary culture which has enlarged his sympathies with men and things. He has rendered us his debtor for much instruction and amusement. The value of his book is greatly enhanced by the illustrations, as graphic as copious and well executed, which is saying much."—Reader.

ADVENTURES AND RESEARCHES among the ANDAMAN ISLANDERS. By DR. MOUAT, F.R.G.S., &c. 1 vol., demy 8vo., with Illustrations. 16s.

COURT AND SOCIETY FROM ELIZABETH

TO ANNE, Edited from the Papers at Kimbolton, by the DUKE OF MANCHESTER. SECOND EDITION, REVISED. 2 vols, 8vo, with Fine Portraits. 30s., bound.

FROM THE ATHENEUM.—"The Duke of Manchester has done a welcome service to the lover of gossip and secret history by publishing these family papers. Persons who like to see greatness without the plumes and mail in which history presents it, will accept these volumes with hearty thanks to their noble editor. In them will be found something new about many men and women in whom the reader can never cease to feel an interest—much about the divorce of Henry the Eighth and Catherine of Arragon—a great deal about the love affairs of Queen Elizabeth—something about Bacon and (indirectly) about Shakspeare—more about Lord Essex and Lady Rich—the very strange story of Walter Montagu, poet, profligate, courtier, pervert, secret agent, abbot—many details of the Civil War and Cromwell's Government, and of the Restoration—much that is new about the Revolution and the Settlement, the exiled Court of St. Germain, the wars of William of Orange, the campaigns of Marlborough, the intrigues of Duchess Sarah, and the town life of fine ladies and gentlemen during the days of Anne. With all this is mingled a good deal of gossip about the loves of great poets, the frailties of great beauties, the rivalries of great wits, the quarrels of great peers."

FROM THE TIMES.—"These volumes are sure to excite curiosity. A great deal of interesting matter is here collected, from sources which are not within everybody's reach."

FROM THE MORNING POST.—"The public are indebted to the noble author for contributing, from the archives of his ancestral seat, many important documents otherwise inaccessible to the historical inquirer, as well as for the lively, picturesque, and piquant sketches of Court and Society, which render his work powerfully attractive to the general reader. The work contains varied information relating to secret Court intrigues, numerous narratives of an exciting nature, and valuable materials for authentic history. Scarcely any personage whose name figured before the world during the long period embraced by the volumes is passed over in silence."

THE LIFE OF THE REV. EDWARD IRVING,

Minister of the National Scotch Church, London. Illustrated by HIS JOURNAL AND CORRESPONDENCE. By Mrs. OLIPHANT. THIRD and CHEAPER EDITION, Revised, in 1 vol., with Portrait, 9s. bound.

"We who read these memoirs must own to the nobility of Irving's character, the grandeur of his aims, and the extent of his powers. His friend Carlyle bears this testimony to his worth:—'I call him, on the whole, the best man I have ever, after trial enough, found in this world, or hope to find.' A character such as this is deserving of study, and his life ought to be written. Mrs. Oliphant has undertaken the work, and has produced a biography of considerable merit. The author fully understands her hero, and sets forth the incidents of his career with the skill of a practised hand. The book is a good book on a most interesting theme."—Times.

"Mrs. Oliphant's 'Life of Edward Irving' supplies a long-felt desideratum. It is copious, earnest, and eloquent. On every page there is the impress of a large and masterly comprehension, and of a bold, fluent, and poetic skill of portraiture. Irving as a man and as a pastor is not only fully sketched, but exhibited with many broad, powerful, and life-like touches, which leave a strong impression."—Edinburgh Review.

"We thank Mrs. Oliphant for her beautiful and pathetic narrative. Hers is a book which few of any creed can read without some profit, and still fewer will close without regret."—Blackwood's Magazine.

"A truly interesting and most affecting memoir. Irving's life ought to have a niche in every gallery of religious biography. There are few lives that will be fuller of instruction, interest, and consolation."—Saturday Review.

THE LIFE OF JOSIAH WEDGWOOD. From his Private Correspondence and Family Papers, in the possession of Joseph Mayer, Esq., F.S.A., and other Authentic Sources. By ELIZA METEYARD. 2 vols., 8vo, with fine Portraits and other Illustrations. (In the Press.)

LODGE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE,

CORRECTED BY THE NOBILITY.

THE THIRTY-FOURTH EDITION FOR 1865 IS NOW READY.

LODGE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE is acknowledged to be the most complete, as well as the most elegant, work of the kind. As an established and authentic authority on all questions respecting the family histories, honours, and connections of the titled aristocracy, no work has ever stood so high. It is published under the especial patronage of Her Majesty, and is annually corrected throughout, from the personal communications of the Nobility. It is the only work of its class in which, the type being kept constantly standing, every correction is made in its proper place to the date of publication, an advantage which gives it supremacy over all its competitors. Independently of its full and authentic information respecting the existing Peers and Baronets of the realm, the most sedulous attention is given in its pages to the collateral branches of the various noble families, and the names of many thousand individuals are introduced, which do not appear in other records of the titled classes. For its authority, correctness, and facility of arrangement, and the beauty of its typography and binding, the work is justly entitled to the place it occupies on the tables of Her Majesty and the Nobility.

LIST OF THE PRINCIPAL CONTENTS

Historical View of the Peerage.
Parliamentary Roll of the House of Lords.
English, Scotch, and Irish Peers, in their orders of Precedence.
Alphabetical List of Peers of Great Britain and the United Kingdom, holding superior rank in the Scotch or Irish Peerage.
Alphabetical List of Scotch and Irish Peers, holding superior titles in the Peerage of Great Britain and the United Kingdom.
A Collective List of Peers, in their order of Precedence.
Table of Precedency among Men.
Table of Precedency among Women.
The Queen and the Royal Family.
Peers of the Blood Royal.
The Peerage, alphabetically arranged.
Families of such Extinct Peers as have left Widows or Issue.
Alphabetical List of the Surnames of all the Peers.

The Archbishops and Bishops of England, Ireland, and the Colonies.
The Baronetage, alphabetically arranged.
Alphabetical List of Surnames assumed by members of Noble Families.
Alphabetical List of the Second Titles of Peers, usually borne by their Eldest Sons.
Alphabetical Index to the Daughters of Dukes, Marquises, and Earls, who, having married Commoners, retain the title of Lady before their own Christian and their Husbands' Surnames.
Alphabetical Index to the Daughters of Viscounts and Barons, who, having married Commoners, are styled Honourable Mrs.; and, in case of the husband being a Baronet or Knight, Honourable Lady.
Mottoes alphabetically arranged and translated.

"Lodge's Peerage must supersede all other works of the kind, for two reasons: first, it is on a better plan; and secondly, it is better executed. We can safely pronounce it to be the readiest, the most useful, and exactest of modern works on the subject."—Spectator

"A work which corrects all errors of former works. It is a most useful publication."—Times

"As perfect a Peerage as we are ever likely to see published."—Herald.

HURST AND BLACKETT'S STANDARD LIBRARY

OF CHEAP EDITIONS OF

POPULAR MODERN WORKS,

ILLUSTRATED BY MILLAIS, HOLMAN HUNT, LEECH, BIRKET FOSTER,
JOHN GILBERT, TENNIEL, &c.

Each in a single volume, elegantly printed, bound, and illustrated, price 5s.

VOL. I.—SAM SLICK'S NATURE AND HUMAN NATURE.

Messrs Hurst and Blackett have very fitly inaugurated their Standard Library of Popular Modern Works with this admirable volume. With regard to this we can truly say:—Who can tire of the genuine sallies, the deep wisdom wrapped up in merry guise, and the side-splitting outbursts of genuine wit, in the pages of Haliburton? 'Nature and Human Nature' is particularly full of all these qualities; and to those who love a good laugh, when they can enjoy it accompanied by good matter for reflection, and who have not yet read this production of Sam Slick, we can heartily recommend this elegant Edition."—Critic.

"The first volume of Messrs Hurst and Blackett's Standard Library of Cheap Editions forms a very good beginning to what will doubtless be a very successful undertaking. 'Nature and Human Nature' is one of the best of Sam Slick's witty and humorous productions, and well entitled to the large circulation which it cannot fail to obtain in its present convenient and cheap shape. The volume combines with the great recommendations of a clear, bold type, and good paper, the lesser, but attractive merits, of being well illustrated and elegantly bound."—Post.

VOL. II.—JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN.

"This is a very good and a very interesting work. It is designed to trace the career from boyhood to age of a perfect man—a Christian gentleman, and it abounds in incident both well and highly wrought. Throughout it is conceived in a high spirit, and written with great ability. This cheap and handsome new edition is worthy to pass freely from hand to hand as a gift book in many households."—Examiner.

"The new and cheaper edition of this interesting work will doubtless meet with great success. John Halifax, the hero of this most beautiful story, is no ordinary hero, and this his history is no ordinary book. It is a full-length portrait of a true gentleman, one of nature's own nobility. It is also the history of a home, and a thoroughly English one. The work abounds in incident, and many of the scenes are full of graphic power and true pathos. It is a book that few will read without becoming wiser and better."—Scotsman.

"'John Halifax' is more than worthy of the author's reputation. We consider, indeed, that it is her best work. There are in it many passages of beautiful writing. The closing scenes are deeply pathetic, and few will lay down the book without tearful eyes. 'John Halifax' is a picture, drawn with a masterly hand, of one of nature's gentlemen. Everybody who ever reads a novel should read this one."—Critic.

"The story is very interesting. The attachment between John Halifax and his wife is beautifully painted, as are the pictures of their domestic life, and the growing up of their children; and the conclusion of the book is beautiful and touching."—Athenaeum.

VOL. III.—THE CRESCENT AND THE CROSS.

BY ELIOT WARBURTON.

"Independent of its value as an original narrative, and its useful and interesting information, this work is remarkable for the colouring power and play of fancy with which its descriptions are enlivened. Among its greatest and most lasting charms is its reverent and serious spirit."—Quarterly Review.

"A book calculated to prove more practically useful was never penned than 'The Crescent and the Cross'—a work which surpasses all others in its homage for the sublime and its love for the beautiful in those famous regions consecrated to everlasting immortality in the annals of the prophets, and which no other writer has ever depicted with a pencil at once so reverent and so picturesque."—Sun.

HURST AND BLACKETT'S STANDARD LIBRARY

VOL. IV.—NATHALIE. BY JULIA KAVANAGH.

"'Nathalie' is Miss Kavanagh's best imaginative effort. Its manner is gracious and attractive. Its matter is good. A sentiment, a tenderness, are commanded by her which are as individual as they are elegant. We should not soon come to an end were we to specify all the delicate touches and attractive pictures which place 'Nathalie' high among books of its class."—Athenæum.

VOL. V.—A WOMAN'S THOUGHTS ABOUT WOMEN.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"A book of sound counsel. It is one of the most sensible works of its kind, well-written, true-hearted, and altogether practical. Whoever wishes to give advice to a young lady may thank the author for means of doing so."—Examiner.

"These thoughts are good and humane. They are thoughts we would wish women to think: they are much more to the purpose than the treatises upon the women and daughters of England, which were fashionable some years ago, and these thoughts mark the progress of opinion, and indicate a higher tone of character, and a juster estimate of woman's position."—Athenæum.

"These thoughts are worthy of the earnest and enlightened mind, the all-embracing charity, and the well-earned reputation of the author of 'John Halifax.'"—Herald.

VOL. VI.—ADAM GRAEME OF MOSSGRAY.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "MRS MARGARET MATTLAND."

"'Adam Graeme' is a story awakening genuine emotions of interest and delight by its admirable pictures of Scottish life and scenery. The eloquent author sets before us the essential attributes of Christian virtue, their deep and silent workings in the heart, and their beautiful manifestations in life, with a delicacy, a power, and a truth which can hardly be surpassed."—Post.

VOL. VII.—SAM SLICK'S WISE SAWS AND MODERN INSTANCES.

"We have not the slightest intention to criticise this book. Its reputation is made, and will stand as long as that of Scott's or Bulwer's Novels. The remarkable originality of its purpose, and the happy description it affords of American life and manners, still continue the subject of universal admiration. To say thus much is to say enough, though we must just mention that the new edition forms a part of the Publishers' Cheap Standard Library, which has included some of the very best specimens of light literature that ever have been written."—Messenger.

VOL. VIII.—CARDINAL WISEMAN'S RECOLLECTIONS OF THE LAST FOUR POPES.

"A picturesque book on Rome and its ecclesiastical sovereigns, by an eloquent Roman Catholic. Cardinal Wiseman has here treated a special subject with so much generality and geniality, that his recollections will excite no ill-feeling in those who are most conscientiously opposed to every idea of human infallibility represented in Papal domination."—Athenæum.

VOL. IX.—A LIFE FOR A LIFE.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"We are always glad to welcome Miss Muloch. She writes from her own convictions, and she has the power not only to conceive clearly what it is that she wishes to say, but to express it in language effective and vigorous. In 'A Life for a Life' she is fortunate in a good subject, and she has produced a work of strong effect. The reader having read the book through for the story, will be apt (if he be of our persuasion) to return and read again many pages and passages with greater pleasure than on a first perusal."—Athenæum.

HURST AND BLACKETT'S STANDARD LIBRARY

VOL. X.—THE OLD COURT SUBURB. BY LEIGH HUNT.

"A delightful book, that will be welcome to all readers, and most welcome to those who have a love for the best kinds of reading."—Examiner.

"A more agreeable and entertaining book has not been published since Boswell produced his reminiscences of Johnson."—Observer.

VOL. XI.—MARGARET AND HER BRIDESMAIDS.

"We recommend all who are in search of a fascinating novel to read this work for themselves. They will find it well worth their while. There are a freshness and originality about it quite charming, and there is a certain nobleness in the treatment both of sentiment and incident which is not often found."—Athenæum.

VOL. XII.—THE OLD JUDGE. BY SAM SLICK.

"These popular sketches, in which the Author of 'Sam Slick' paints Nova Scotian life, form the 12th volume of Messrs Hurst and Blackett's Standard Library of Modern Works. The publications included in this Library have all been of good quality; many give information while they entertain, and of that class the book before us is a specimen. The manner in which the Cheap Editions forming the series is produced deserves especial mention. The paper and print are unexceptionable; there is a steel engraving in each volume, and the outsides of them will satisfy the purchaser who likes to see a regiment of books in handsome uniform."—Examiner.

VOL. XIII.—DARIEN. BY ELIOT WARBURTON.

"This last production of the author of 'The Crescent and the Cross' has the same elements of a very wide popularity. It will please its thousands."—Globe.

VOL. XIV.—FAMILY ROMANCE; OR, DOMESTIC ANNALS OF THE ARISTOCRACY.

BY SIR BERNARD BURKE, ULSTER KING OF ARMS.

"It were impossible to praise too highly this most interesting book. It ought to be found on every drawing-room table. Here you have nearly fifty captivating romances with the pith of all their interest preserved in undiminished poignancy, and any one may be read in half an hour."—Standard.

VOL. XV.—THE LAIRD OF NORLAW.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "MRS MARGARET MAITLAND."

"The Laird of Norlaw fully sustains the author's high reputation."—Sunday Times.]

VOL. XVI.—THE ENGLISHWOMAN IN ITALY.

"We can praise Mrs Gretton's book as interesting, unexaggerated, and full of opportunity instruction."—The Times.

VOL. XVII.—NOTHING NEW.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"'Nothing New' displays all those superior merits which have made 'John Halifax' one of the most popular works of the day. There is a force and truthfulness about these tales which mark them as the production of no ordinary mind, and we cordially recommend them to the perusal of all lovers of fiction."—Post.

VOL. XVIII.—THE LIFE OF JEANNE D'ALBRET.

BY MISS FREER.

"Nothing can be more interesting than Miss Freer's story of the life of Jeanne D'Albret, and the narrative is as trustworthy as it is attractive."—Post.

VOL. XIX.—THE VALLEY OF A HUNDRED FIRES.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "MARGARET AND HER BRIDESMAIDS."

"We know no novel of the last three or four years to equal this latest production of the popular authoress of 'Margaret and her Bridesmaids.' If asked to classify it, we should give it a place between 'John Halifax' and 'the Caxtons.'"—Herald.

VOL. XX.—THE ROMANCE OF THE FORUM.

BY PETER BURKE, SERJEANT AT LAW.

"A work of singular interest, which can never fail to charm. The present cheap and elegant edition includes the true story of the Colleen Bawn."—Illustrated News.

VOL. XXI.—ADELE. BY JULIA KAVANAGH.

"'Adele' is the best work we have read by Miss Kavanagh; it is a charming story, full of delicate character painting."—Athenæum.

VOL. XXII.—STUDIES FROM LIFE.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"These 'Studies from Life' are remarkable for graphic power and observation. The book will not diminish the reputation of the accomplished author."—Saturday Review.

VOL. XXIII.—GRANDMOTHER'S MONEY.

"We commend 'Grandmother's Money' to readers in search of a good novel. The characters are true to human nature, the story is interesting, and there is throughout a healthy tone of morality."—Athenæum.

VOL. XXIV.—A BOOK ABOUT DOCTORS.

BY J. C. JEAFFRESON, ESQ.

"A delightful book."—Athenæum. "A book to be read and re-read; fit for the study as well as the drawing-room table and the circulating library."—Lancet.

VOL. XXV.—NO CHURCH.

"We advise all who have the opportunity to read this book. It is well worth the study."—Athenæum.

VOL. XXVI.—MISTRESS AND MAID.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"A good, wholesome book, gracefully written, and as pleasant to read as it is instructive."—Athenæum. "A charming tale charmingly told. All the characters are drawn with life-like naturalness."—Herald. "The spirit of the whole book is excellent. It is written with the same true-hearted earnestness as 'John Halifax.'"—Examiner.

VOL. XXVII.—LOST AND SAVED.

BY THE HON. MRS NORTON.

"'Lost and saved' will be read with eager interest. It is a vigorous novel."—Times. "A novel of rare excellence; fresh in its thought, subtle in its character painting, and with a brave soul speaking through it. It is Mrs Norton's best prose work."—Examiner.

VOL. XXVIII.—LES MISERABLES, BY VICTOR HUGO.

AUTHORISED COPYRIGHT ENGLISH TRANSLATION.

"'The merits of Les Miserables' do not merely consist in the conception of it as a whole; it abounds, page after page, with details of unequalled beauty. In dealing with all the emotions, doubts, fears, which go to make up our common humanity, M. Victor Hugo has stamped upon every page the hall-mark of genius."—Quarterly Review.

The objects of this Society are—Temporary Assistance to Governesses in distress, afforded privately and delicately through the Ladies' Committee.

Annuity Fund.—Elective Annuities to Aged Governesses, secured on invested capital, and thus independent of the prosperity of the Institution.

Provident Fund.—Provident Annuities purchased by Ladies in any way connected with education, upon Government security, agreeably to the Act of Parliament. This branch includes a Savings Bank.

A Home for Governesses during the intervals between their engagements.

A System of Registration entirely free of expense.

An Asylum for the Aged.

MEMBERSHIP consists in the payment of an Annual Guinea, or of Ten Guineas in one sum. Subscribers are entitled to vote for Annuities in the proportion of One Vote for each Annual Half-Guinea not in arrear, and for each Donation of Five Guineas. Subscriptions are due on the 1st of January, and can always be remitted by Post Office Order, or by a Cheque crossed "Sir S. Scott and Co."

The EQUITABLE, established in 1762, was one of the earliest Offices on the Mutual principle.

The entire profits are divisible among its members, no portion of the same being diverted either for dividends on shares, as in "proprietary" offices, or for "commission" to agents.

Since its establishment in the year 1762 it has paid £16,880,000 in claims, and £15,690,000 for bonuses on the same.

The Invested Capital on the 31st of December, 1863, exceeded £5,000,000 sterling.

The Reserve at the last rest, in December, 1859, exceeded £700,000, as a basis for future divisions.

Under the bye-law of the 19th of December, 1816, the oldest 5000 policies are admitted to participation in the bonuses.

New Assurers in the current year (1865) will be placed among the number after payment of their first premium, and will become entitled to a rateable share in the bonus to be made in December 1869, on payment of the annual premium in 1870.

SURRENDER OF POLICIES.—The full value is paid on surrender, without any deduction.

LOANS ON POLICIES.—The Directors will make advances on deposit of the policies.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THIS CORPORATION has granted Assurances on Lives for a period exceeding One Hundred and Forty Years, having issued its first Policy on the 7th June, 1721.

Two-thirds of the entire Profits, without any deduction for expenses of management, are allotted to the Assured. This arrangement will be found to be more advantageous to the Policy holders, than an apparently larger proportion of the Profits, subject to the expenses of management.

Assurances may be effected without Participation in Profits, at low rates of Premium, or with Participation in Profits, upon either of the following plans, viz.:

By an Annual Abatement of Premium on Policies of Five Years standing and upwards.
 Upon this plan the abatement from the original Premium for the Year 1864 was at the rate of Forty per cent.

By appropriating the Profits at the end of every Five Years, either in increase of the Sum Assured, or as an immediate Cash payment.

Examples of the Bonus Additions to the Sum Assured on Policies of Fifteen Years standing are subjoined.

Secretary—RICHARD RAY, Esq.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The important advantages offered by the Plan and Constitution of this Society are,—

- (1) Insurers have the benefit of a large Accumulated Fund, the entire income of which (there being no Shareholders) is divisible amongst the Insured.
- (2) The Profits are divided annually amongst all Members of Five or more Years' standing.
- (3) No charge is made for Entrance Money, or for Policy Stamps.
- (4) Premiums may be made payable, if desired, Half-Yearly.

It will be seen from the Table below that the Profits have admitted of an abatement of Premium, for the current year, of 55 per cent.

The following Table exhibits the Abatements of Premium that have been made to Members of Five or more Years' standing, in each year from 1844 to 1864, inclusive:—

Years of Division.	Rate of Abatement.	Years of Division.	Rate of Abatement.	Years of Division.	Rate of Abatement.
1844	£45 per cent.	1851	£52½ per cent.	1858	£52½ per cent.
1845	50 „	1852	52½ „	1859	52½ „
1846	50 „	1853	52½ „	1860	52½ „
1847	50 „	1854	52½ „	1861	52½ „
1848	50 „	1855	52½ „	1862	52½ „
1849	52½ „	1856	52½ „	1863	52½ „
1850	52½ „	1857	52½ „	1864	55 „

Thus a Premium of £100 upon a Policy taken out before 24th June, 1859, has been reduced for the year 1864, to £45.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Insurances are effected at the usual rates.

COLES'S PATENT TRUSS,

FOR the Relief and Cure of Hernia, is the best in use. This invention effectually remedies the defects existing in others, combining a self-regulating quality of adjustment with the greatest ease and security. The best authorities have pronounced it to be a valuable improvement in an instrument known to be most defective; and the extensive use of these Trusses in all parts of the world may be adduced in proof of the utility of the invention, and the estimation in which it is held by the public.

"They make a more uniform pressure on the ring than the ball-and-socket pad can effect."—Sir A. COOPER, Bart., F.R.S., in his Treatise on Hernia.

"The varied positions of the body in stooping and coughing do not alter the position of the pads, nor displace them."—THOMAS CALLAWAY, Esq., Guy's.

"It is my firm conviction that his Trusses will be found more efficacious than any at present employed."—HENRY EARLE, Esq., F.R.S.

"They are the best Trusses that have ever yet been got up."—ASTON KEY, Esq., Guy's.

"I consider these Trusses calculated, beyond every other Truss I have seen, to cure this disease in its earliest and simplest form."—Dr. GIDEON MANTELL, F.R.S.

"The Rev. Mr. DOWDESWELL informs Mr. Coles that, for many years before he called at his Establishment, at Charing Cross, he had worn Trusses, got up, as he supposed, by the best London makers; but he considers it due to Mr. Coles to acknowledge that his Patent Trusses, which he has also worn for many years, are as much superior to those which he had formerly used as words can possibly describe them. Dr. Dowdeswell, in authorizing Mr. Coles to give it publicity, feels assured that he is conferring a boon on society."—48, Upper Grosvenor-street, Grosvenor-square.

These Trusses are manufactured with the greatest regard to effect, and in the application them the Inventor has the advantage of many years' experience in the treatment of this complaint.

A LETTER, containing INSTRUCTIONS for MEASURING, together with COBBETT'S LEGACY TO RUPTURED PERSONS, will be forwarded on receipt of two stamps.

OIL PAINT NO LONGER NECESSARY.

HILL & SMITH'S BLACK VARNISH, FOR PRESERVING IRON-WORK, WOOD, OR STONE-WORK.

This Varnish is an excellent substitute for Oil Paint on all out-door work, and not only saves two-thirds of the expense of an ordinary quality of oil paint, but has the great advantage that it may be applied by an ordinary labourer in a cold state, and that no mixing or thinning is required.

It is used in the grounds at Windsor Castle, Kew Gardens, and all the Parks in London, and at the seats of many of the Nobility and Gentry of the United Kingdom. It is also largely exported.

Testimonials from Noblemen and Gentlemen who regularly use it, will be forwarded gratis on application.

THE WROUGHT-IRON HEATING BARROW,

Shown in the above engraving, is a very useful article for applying the Varnish, or for Heating Gas Tar. The front compartment holds Tools, Fuel, &c., and the back compartment carries an Iron Three-gallon Pot, with Fire-grate underneath. Price £3, or £3 3s., carriage paid.

Price of the Varnish, which is sold in Casks of about Thirty Gallons each, 1s. 6d. per Gallon, or 1s. 8d. per Gallon, Carriage Paid to any Railway Station.

HORTICULTURAL BUILDINGS of every description, and on the most improved principles, erected in any part of the kingdom.

J. WEEKS and Co.'s SHOW ESTABLISHMENT is devoted entirely to Buildings of Horticulture, with their respective improvements, consisting of—

Conservatories, Hot Houses,
GREENHOUSES, PINE STOVES, VINERIES,
Orchard Houses,
Cucumber and other Forcing Pits,
AND AN EXTENSIVE WINTER GARDEN.

The whole in full operation, so as to form an unrivalled selection of HORTICULTURAL STRUCTURES, suited for every required purpose.

J. WEEKS and Co. are enabled, by means of their extensive STEAM-POWER MACHINERY, to execute orders with superiority and despatch.

These BOILERS are made of various sizes. The largest exposes a heating surface to the immediate action of the fire, of upwards of

400 SUPERFICIAL FEET,

and, as every such superficial foot is capable of boiling twenty-five gallons of water, one of these Boilers is capable of boiling 10,000 gallons.

HEATING BY HOT WATER.

IT is now generally admitted that Buildings of any kind can be more effectually warmed by Hot Water than by any other means; but as so much depends on the way in which the Apparatus is fixed, it is of the greatest importance that it be done by experienced men.

J. JONES and SONS are prepared to estimate for Warming, to any extent—

Greenhouses.
Conservatories.
Vineries.
Hot Houses.
Forcing Pits.
Peach Houses.
Pine Stoves.
Orchard Houses.
Churches.
Chapels.
Schools.
Reading Rooms.

Lecture Halls.
Billiard Rooms.
Halls and Passages.
Baths.
Factories.
Offices.
Workshops.
Warehouses.
Drying Rooms.
Cellars.
Coach Houses.
Harness Rooms.

J. JONES and SONS' Apparatus is simple in construction, moderate in cost, and economical in working.

It is equally available for the Amateur's Greenhouse or the longest range of Forcing Houses; for the smallest Chapel or the largest Church; for Private Offices, or those of Public Companies.

It is admirably adapted for Dwelling Houses, as coils of pipes can be placed in any part, for warming the various rooms. One or more Baths may be heated from the same boiler, and a constant supply of hot water obtained in any part of the house.

For Warehouses and Workshops this system of heating is unsurpassed, as it is not only the means of keeping goods dry, but it also adds to the comfort of the workpeople, and thereby effects a saving in labour.

J. JONES and SONS recommend boilers of all kinds being set in brickwork, if possible; but portable boilers can be supplied if required.

MATERIALS.....All Materials supplied will be of the best quality.

DELIVERY.....Boilers of various kinds, and pipes and connexions, being always in stock, can, at a very short notice, be sent to any part.

FIXING.....The Fixing will be done by experienced men, fully capable of finishing properly any work they may undertake; and J. JONES and SONS are prepared to guarantee the effectual working of any apparatus fixed by their own men.

ESTIMATES.....Plans and Estimates will be sent on application.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

JOSEPH GILLOTT,

METALLIC PEN MAKER TO THE QUEEN,

BEGS to inform the Commercial World, Scholastic Institutions, and the Public generally, that, by a novel application of his unrivalled Machinery for making Steel Pens, he has introduced a NEW SERIES of his useful productions, which, for EXCELLENCE OF TEMPER, QUALITY OF MATERIAL, and, above all, CHEAPNESS IN PRICE, must insure universal approbation, and defy competition.

Each Pen bears the impress of his name as a guarantee of quality; they are put up in boxes, containing one gross each, with label outside, and the facsimile of his signature.

At the request of numerous persons engaged in tuition, J. G. has introduced his WARRANTED SCHOOL and PUBLIC PENS, which are especially adapted to their use, being of different degrees of flexibility, and with fine, medium, and broad points, suitable for the various kinds of Writing taught in Schools.

EASTON'S

IMPROVED

RAM.

TO NOBLEMEN and GENTLEMEN who require a Plentiful and Constant Supply of Pure Water at their Country Mansions, Messrs. EASTON, AMOS, and SONS beg to offer their Improved PATENT HYDRAULIC RAM, which is perfectly self-acting, and without manual labour is capable of lifting water to thirty times the height of the waterfall by which it is worked.

These machines can be applied wherever a fall of water of a few feet can be obtained, and their cheapness and durability, with the fact that upwards of 1500 of them, erected in England and other countries by Messrs. Easton, Amos, and Sons, have now been at work many years, afford ample proof of their great value and efficiency.

Estimates of the expense of the machine, Pipes for the conveyance of Water, Tanks, and Reservoirs, will be furnished by Messrs. EASTON, AMOS, and SONS, on the following information being given them.

- 1st. The number of feet fall they can obtain at the spring or brook to work the Ram.
- 2ndly. The perpendicular height from the lower part of the fall to where the water is required to be delivered.
- 3rdly. The distance, horizontally, from the spring or brook to the house or premises where the water is required.
- 4thly. If the spring or brook should be small, it is very desirable to ascertain how many gallons it flows per minute.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS.

GOUCHER'S IMPROVED

BEATERS.

THE action of the Grooves of these Beaters upon the grain is now perfect; as the peculiar construction of the grooves renders their thrashing surfaces so keen as not to admit of a single grain escaping being thrashed out, however fast it may be in the ear, while they are less liable to bruise and injure the grain than the old kind of Beater; and farmers are advised to have their Machines fitted with these Beaters, which are now manufactured solely by the Patentee under a new process, and have three times the wear of the old Beater.

Old Machines should be refitted with this new Improved Beater, as three times their cost will be saved in the first day's thrashing. The Beater Plates may be had any length up to five feet six inches; also with eight bolt holes, adapted to the Machines by Clayton & Co.; although Plates with ten bolt holes are recommended. When Plates are required for renewing worn-out Beaters, the exact length and number of bolt holes required should be given. A List of Prices and further particulars may be obtained on application.

THE TRADE SUPPLIED.

CAUTION.—The Patent Beater Plates are now solely manufactured by, and can only be obtained of, the Patentee, and whoever is found infringing the Patent will be proceeded against.

N.B.—This Patent Beater has been submitted to the severest competition at the Royal Agricultural Society's and other Shows, and since 1853 has obtained all the FIRST PRIZES; and again the Two FIRST PRIZES at the Royal Agricultural Society's Show at Worcester were awarded to this Beater, and a PRIZE MEDAL by the Yorkshire, the Manchester and Liverpool, and the International Society's Show at Hamburg was especially awarded to this Beater.

A First Class Silver Medal Awarded.

PATENT GENERAL

MINCING AND SAUSAGE MACHINES, FOR PRIVATE FAMILIES.

These Machines are intended for Mincing and Mixing various substances—Meat or Vegetables for Soups, &c.; Fruit for Mince-meat; Suet for Pastry; and for making Potted or Forced Meats; also for preparing a great variety of Dishes, and are admirably adapted for reducing Meats for Soups, according to the mode recommended by Professor Liebig, in his work on "The Chemistry of Food."

"Among other objects in the Show worthy of special notice, we may mention the very ingenious Mincing Machine exhibited by NYE & CO. It is extremely clever, and, for the mechanical skill which it displays, is eclipsed by nothing in the whole Show."—Times.

FOR SAUSAGES, they Mince, Mix, and Force into the Skins at the same time. Price £1 10s., £2 2s., and £3 3s. For Sausage-makers, Asylums, Public Institutions, &c., where a large quantity of Food has to be Mincéd for Children, Invalid, or Incompetent Persons. Price £5 5s. and £7 7s.

SMALL MINCER FOR THE DINNER-TABLE, to assist Digestion, Loss of Teeth, &c. Price £1 10s. Also,

MR. HOWARD, Surgeon-Dentist, 52, Fleet-street, has introduced an entirely new description of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, fixed without springs, wires, or ligatures. They so perfectly resemble the natural teeth as not to be distinguished from the originals by the closest observer. They will never change colour or decay, and will be found superior to any teeth ever before used. This method does not require the extraction of roots, or any painful operation, will support and preserve teeth that are loose, and is guaranteed to restore articulation and mastication.

Decayed teeth stopped and rendered sound and useful in mastication.

CHLORODYNE.

VICE-CHANCELLOR WOOD stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne. Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 13th, 1864. The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

THIS INVALUABLE REMEDY produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body.

From J. M'GRIGOR CROFT, M.D., M.R.C.P., London, late Staff-Surgeon to H.M.F.

"After prescribing Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, for the last three years, in severe cases of Neuralgia and Tic Doloreux, I feel that I am in a position to testify to its valuable effects. Really in some cases it acted as a charm, when all other means had failed. Without being asked for this report, I must come forward and state my candid opinion that it is a most valuable medicine."

From JNO. E. GOULSTONE, M.D., Knighton.

"I can confidently state that Chlorodyne is an admirable Sedative and Anti-Spasmodic, having used it in Neuralgia, Hysteria, Asthma, and Consumption, with remarkably favourable results. It relieved a fit of Asthma in four minutes, where the patient had suffered eleven years in a most distressing manner, no previous remedy having had so immediate and beneficial an effect."

No home should be without it. Sold in Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sent free, on receipt of stamps, by J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Great Russell Street, London, W.C., sole manufacturer.

Observe particularly, none genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government Stamp.

Be not misled by unscrupulous statements. Dr. J. C. Browne has never published the formula.

LEA'S GOUT AND RHEUMATIC PILLS

Always relieve in a short time the pain of these complaints, however acute they may be, effectually obviate injury to any vital organ; and, if persevered in, will effect a cure when every other remedy has failed. This fact is fully proved by the numerous testimonials constantly received from persons of every grade. No one subject to the above ailments should ever be without them, the relief obtained after taking but a few doses being almost incredible. This medicine is also excellent in Sciatica, Neuralgia, and Lumbago, and is not like the generally advertised curatives, which cause sickness, diarrhoea, pains in the head, and debilitate the constitution, but on the contrary, it not only eradicates these disorders, but also strengthens and invigorates the system, a desideratum not to be attained by any other medicine extant.

Prepared by Mr. G. LEA, Camberwell, Surrey,

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d., and may be ordered of any Medicine Vender, or sent free for Fifteen, Thirty-six, or Sixty Postage Stamps.

The following Letters have been recently received by the Proprietor :

30 D, Albany Road, Old Kent Road, Surrey.

SIR,—I feel I should be wanting in duty to the public, and gratitude to you, were I to withhold my testimony as to the value of your GOUT AND RHEUMATIC PILLS. My wife was for some time suffering from Rheumatic Pains of a chronic character to such an extent as almost to disable her from turning in bed without assistance; but after taking two or three doses of your Pills she was quite cured, and has since had no return of the complaint. Two aged relatives also, one eighty-one and the other over seventy, troubled with Gout in the hands and feet, are now taking your medicine, and I am informed the results are alike satisfactory. I have experienced much pleasure in recommending your remedy during my travels in various parts of the country, and its effects has always proved most beneficial. If you think proper to make use of this testimonial, I shall be glad that I have raised my voice in praise of so great a public boon.

I am, sir, yours respectfully,

JOHN SMITH,
Superintendent of Districts (City Coal Dues),
Coal Exchange, London.

To Mr. G. LEA.

79, East Street, Lambeth Walk, Surrey.

SIR,—Having suffered for some years with Chronic Gout, a friend recommended me your Gout Pills; and although I had been laid up for some weeks, unable to turn in bed without assistance, I found immediate relief from taking them, and in two days was enabled to resume my daily occupation.

I am, sir, your grateful servant,

SARAH LAWRANCE.

To Mr. LEA.

Chichester Arms, John Street, Wandsworth Road, Surrey.

DEAR SIR,—I have been a martyr to Rheumatic Gout for many years, and have tried every advertised remedy for it without avail; since, however, taking your Pills, I have derived so much benefit that I feel much pleasure in adding my testimony as to their efficacy.

I remain, dear sir, yours respectfully,

WILLIAM WHALEY.

To G. LEA, Esq.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

STRUVE'S Seltzer, Fachingen, Vichy, Marienbad, Spa, and other Mineral Waters.

UNDER HER MAJESTY'S ESPECIAL PATRONAGE.

ROYAL GERMAN SPA, BRIGHTON.

STRUVE'S Pump-Room, offering every facility for a course of Mineral Waters as perfect and beneficial as the Natural Springs, opens annually in May, and closes in November.

The bottled waters are sold at the Pump-Room, and by GEORGE WAUGH & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists to the Queen, 177, Regent Street, and by other respectable houses in London and the provincial towns, where a Prospectus, with the highest medical testimonials, may be obtained gratis.

CAUTION.—The success which STRUVE & Co.'s MINERAL WATERS have obtained on account of their perfect identity with those of the Natural Springs, has induced several parties in London to imitate their stamps and labels, to buy up their bottles, and fill them with spurious imitations, advertising them as "BRIGHTON Seltzer," "BRIGHTON Fachingen," &c. An analysis of some of these imitations has shown an entire disregard to their true chemical composition, and a total absence of iron in the professed chalybeates.

STRUVE & Co. respectfully request the Public to observe carefully that the name of "Struve" is on the label as well as the red stamp over the cork, which has the words "Royal German Spa, Brighton," beneath the Royal Arms, without which none is genuine.

In his recent work, "ON THE SPAS OF EUROPE," Dr. ALTHAUS says, "If Artificial Mineral Waters are prescribed, we should insist on Struve's alone being used."

THE BATH MINERAL WATERS.

THE HOT MINERAL SPRINGS OF BATH have been celebrated from a very early period for their Medicinal Properties.

The Principal Baths and Drinking Spas are under the careful supervision of the Corporation.

The Diseases for which the Bath Waters can be used with great advantage are: Palsy, Gout, Rheumatism, Nervous Derangements (in which the Brain is not materially affected), among which St. Vitus's Dance may be particularly noticed; Leprosy and other Chronic Diseases of the Skin; Dropped hands from Lead; Poisonous Effects of Mercury or other Minerals; Stiffness or Contraction of the Limbs; Dyspeptic Complaints; Biliary and Visceral Obstructions, &c.

Every Information will be readily afforded upon application to Mr. BOSHER, Superintendent, Royal Baths, Bath.

INDIGESTION.

WILLIAM SMEE and SONS, FINSBURY, LONDON, E.C.

COMFORT FOR INVALIDS.

By Her Majesty's Royal Letters Patent.

NO. 2 shows J. ALDERMAN'S Patent Graduating Elastic Spinal and General Invalid Couch, which is fitted up with two, three, or four distinct graduating actions, so that an invalid can be adjusted imperceptibly to any position without being touched by the nurse, and free from all pressure, that being avoided by his Elastic Ventilating Mattress and his Patent Elastic Adjusting Foundation, so that a patient cannot become bed-sore by long confinement. They are also fitted with a Closet arrangement if required.

No. 5, 5, is J. A.'s Patent Graduating Elastic Self-adjusting Invalid Chair. This Chair, like the Couch, is made to follow nature in every respect, as the back, the arms, the seat, and the leg-rest are made to work at the same time, so that not a muscle of the patient need be disturbed. The arms are also made to put on and off in an instant, so that the patient may get on and off from either side while the leg-rest is out.

No. 6 is J. A.'s Improved Self-propelling Chair, which renders an invalid perfectly independent, being able to run from room to room without any assistance.

No. 8, 8, 8, is J. A.'s Patent Portable Equilibrium Carrying Chair, which enables an invalid, however weighty, to be carried up and down stairs with perfect ease and safety; the Chair, always adjusting itself, enables the two persons who carry to walk up and down stairs in the usual way, quite erect, with their arms straight down, which avoids any strain upon their muscles. It is also a perfect Easy Chair for the patient to sit in during the day, the carrying handles being made to hook on and off in an instant.

No. 11 is J. A.'s Improved Three-wheel Albert Chair, with a hood. It is elegant and easy.

No. 12 is J. A.'s Improved Three-wheel Garden or Bath Chair, with or without a hood.

Same as supplied to General Garibaldi.

The following gratifying Letter has been received by Mr. Alderman from General Garibaldi:—

“Mr. Alderman,—Some time ago I addressed to you a few words of thanks for your magnificent bed, which has been so great a comfort to me during my illness. Now, I hear with regret that my letter has miscarried, and I willingly come forward again to express my gratitude to you. You have alleviated half my sufferings. My affectionate thankfulness will accompany you eternally. Accept a grasp of the hand from yours ever,
